

Shingling in Progress

January 22-23, 2018

It was a big job to shovel and blow all the snow off the roof before the shingling process could begin.

The task carries on . . . staple after staple.

Packs of shingles were spread over the roof awaiting placement.

The “valleys” were done first.

Lots of vehicle around this day and all sorts of work being done “indoors” too.

Front entrance taking shape.

Late into the night the shinglers worked by “candlelight” trying to stay ahead of the snowstorms that were predicted.
