

The Siding

April 3 – 5, 2018

The Personal Care Home now, for the most part, has her new “coat” on (her siding). A crew of several workers were here and the job was done very quickly. Do you like the new look?

There are still finishing touches left to do on the outside, but I suspect with the nicer weather it won't take long and we'll see lots more changes, moving toward completion on the outside, but there is still lots of work to do inside yet. I'm going to have to get the proper "gear" so I can go inside to take pictures so I can inform you of what's happening on the inside.
